Policies

- This course will follow policies and procedures as outlined on Bonneville Academy's website and available at bonnevilleacademy.org/policies. These policies are subject to change as school policies are updated.
- With the exception of reading logs (see reading log policy on previous page), late work will be accepted, but 10% will be deducted for each school day late (with the exception of *excused absences). Work later than 3 school days can still earn up to 70% credit, if turned in before the last week of the term.
- All late work is due ONE week before the last day of the term
- *Each excused absence will receive one extra day to complete missing work with no penalty *Long term excused absences may receive alternative assignments/ due dates, depending on each individual circumstance.
- Parents will be notified, if homework and assignments continue to be missed/ not completed
- Interim assessments will be given throughout the school year in language arts, to help both instructors and students continue working towards a goal of sharpening their skills and improving their education
- Planners should be filled out by the student each day

- Cheating of any kind will not be tolerated. Students participating will receive a 0 on their work and parents/ administration will be notified.
- Assignments can and will be modified on a personal basis for students needing accommodations
- Students will be challenged in their writing and reading this year. While homework will be minimal, (as long as students are on task in class), students will be looking at the texts we discuss in depth and asked to analyze them through speech and writing, among other higher order learning tasks.
- Emails will be sent home often, letting parents know what we are working on in class
- Language Arts will be using a traditional letter grading scale system this year. (A, A-, B+, B...)
